Unlocking a Device

In many cases to unlock the device the customer is responsible for paying off the remaining mobile device balance with their previous carrier

Conditions for unlocking a device

- Device paid in full: The customer must pay off any remaining balance on the device or an early termination fee
- Good standing: The account must be in good standing with the carrier
- Device not reported lost or stolen: The device can not be reported as lost, stolen, or involved in fraud
- Prepaid devices: Eligibility to be unlocked typically happens within one year of activation, after meeting reasonable payment or usage requirements

After paying off the device

- Submit an unlock request: Customers usually need to submit a separate request to unlock their phone
- Wait for processing: There may be a waiting period, often 24 to 48 hours, after the final payment before the customer can submit the unlock request to prevent fraud

Carrier-specific policies

- AT&T: The customer must pay off the device in full and have no past-due balances on the account
- T-Mobile: The customer needs to pay off the phone completely and have been on their network for at least 40 days
- Verizon: Automatically removes the lock after 60 days, so the customer does not need to pay off the installment plan

Customer Eligibility

- Customer must activate new residential internet service and transfer 2 or more new mobile lines of service with Astound Mobile
 - Must activate all lines within 30 days of order
 - Mobile does not need to be installed at the same time as Internet
- At least 2 mobile numbers must be successfully transferred (port-in) from their previous carrier to Astound Mobile

Mobile Buyout Program is a promotional offer designed to attract new internet and mobile customers by assisting them in paying off the remaining mobile device balance with their previous carrier

The Mobile Buyout Program helps new customers switch by paying back up to $500 per phone for up to 5 phones when they move their mobile service to Astound and sign up for Astound internet. Customers must bring at least two phone lines, be in good standing with their old carrier, pay off and unlock their devices, and send in recent bills to prove what they still owed. After internet service is active and the first bill is paid, customers receive a prepaid Visa gift card by email within a few weeks.
